

“Community Policing is much more than a ‘theory’ about police working with citizens. It’s about engagement, and this is how we do business at your Jacksonville Sheriff’s Office. Here is a list of the many ways for citizens and police to connect with each other – come together in non-emergency situations – and share and learn about crime and public safety. Our Goal: Citizens and police working together to make our city the safest in America.”

Mike Williams, Sheriff
Duval County (Jacksonville), FL
