

Imani A. Boykin (Ethics Commission)

Imani A. Boykin practices exclusively in the area of Elder Law and represents families and individuals in the areas of probate, guardianship, will and trusts, special needs planning, advanced directives, and Medicaid planning.

Ms. Boykin was honored as the Jacksonville Woman Lawyer of the Year (2016) by the Jacksonville Women Lawyers Association and as a Leader in the Law (2017) by the Florida Association of Women Lawyers. She was also recognized for her pro bono work by Jacksonville Area Legal Aid when she received the Outstanding Pro Bono Service Award (2017). Ms. Boykin is actively engaged in voluntary bars and in the community at the state and national levels. She has served as a Past President of the D.W. Perkins Bar Association, a Barrister in the Florida Family Law American Inns of Court, member of the Florida Probate Rules Committee (two terms), and past chair of a Fourth Circuit Grievance Committee. She currently serves on the Board of Directors for the Northeast Florida Medical Legal Partnership, is a member of an ABA Standing Committee, and is a member of the Jacksonville Women's Network. Ms. Boykin earned Martindale Hubbell's highest rating as an AV[®] Preeminent[™] Attorney since 2015.

Ms. Boykin enjoys traveling, reading, cooking, and spending time with her family and friends.