Program Strategy: Mentoring
Summary of Program:
The Get REAL! Program connects at-risk girls with caring community members and partners who serve as mentors. The Get REAL! Program positively impacts the girls, schools and mentors as well as the community. The Get REAL! Program is a group mentoring program ideally using one mentor per 15 girls. Get REAL! has four basic components: reading skills, life skills, community care projects and enhancement programs. The curriculum also focuses on self-esteem, social development and interpersonal relationships, and is a structured support group using three, eight-week modules.
Program Overall Status:
We are currently serving girls at The Boys and Girls Club (The Bridge of NE Florida) and JEB Stuart over the summer months. Robert E Lee High School, Matthew Gilbert Middle School, Jeff Davis Middle School, Stilwell Middle School and Eugene Butler Middle School do not meet over the summer with the exception of day camp. Recruitment will begin mid-August for the school year.
Successes: The topics covered in troops have been: July- communication &amp; peer pressure, August-Community Service Project planning and school year prep. September- conflict resolution and anti-bullying strategies. October: continued with conflict resolution and peer to peer communication. November: Partnered with Aging True for Meals on Wheels Holiday Cards. December: Trip to CGC and Holiday cards for MOW. January: Trip to camp. February: Financial literacy and Black History Month. March- Legislative Days and Camp. April: Focus on self-esteem building, goal setting and preparing for the EOC exams. May: During the month of May girls were focused on their final exams and the end of the school year; several sites planned team building activities for summer camp in July. Girls took their post-test evaluations. June 2017 Girls attended Health Explorers which was in partnership with UF Health. They spent the day at the hospital participating in workshops with doctors, nurses, paramedics and administrators. During their weekly troop meetings girls worked on their conflict resolution skills and improving communication. JULY: During the summer months, JEB Stuart and "The Bridge" continued to meet for troop. 90% of the girls who participated during the school year were able to make it to day camp. Girls went swimming and canoeing, learned archery and team building exercises that included a ropes course and hiking. August: Troops did not meet for the first two weeks in August, only the Boys and Girls Club met 2 times the last two weeks. Other locations will resume meetings the first week in September. Girls worked on their back to school goals and deciding their booklist for group reading.
