MENTAL HEALTH

TOOLS & RESOURCES FOR THE WORKPLACE

You're invited to spend your lunch break with JHRC as we learn more about the tools and resources available to employers to identify and assist employees with mental health issues in the workplace. In particular, these tools may assist employers with preventing workplace disturbances, violence, alcoholism, drug abuse, or suicides that may arise because of anxiety, depression or stress in the workplace or from personal/family issues outside of work that may affect an employee at work.
